Membership Benefits

Connect with Colleagues: Network and bond with fellow teachers in person at workshops, conventions and other professional development opportunities. Make life-long friendships with like-minded individuals who are passionate about art. Gain inspiration and great lesson ideas from your fellow art educators. Be part of the intellectual conversation about art and art education.

Also connect through the AEAI website <http://aeai.org/>, the AEAI list serve (contact Leah Morgan homested@dmrtc.net to join), AEAI Facebook page, AEAI district blogs, and the NAEA website <http://www.arteducators.org/>.

Professional Growth Points: Attending the AEAI Annual Convention and participating in many of the fun and educational workshops AEAI offers can earn you PGPs.

Support and Advocacy: Many voices joined together help to make our educational concerns known to our state and national legislators. Budget cutbacks and changes in educational policies can be frustrating and confusing. AEAI is here for you.

YAM Participation: Youth Art Month is represented every March at the statehouse. Participate with teachers across the state in showing off your students' artwork. YAM Indiana artwork is also digitally shown on the Artsonia website <http://www.artsonia.com/>.

Professional Development: District and Division level workshops are offered throughout the year and throughout the state, giving members opportunities to learn a new medium, visit a new place, hear a favorite artist speak, or learn a new skill.

Conventions: The AEAI Annual Convention is held every November and the NAEA Annual Convention is held every spring. Both conventions will immerse you in art and will leave you feeling energized for your students and staff! AEAI/NAEA membership offers great discounts on both NAEA and AEAI convention registration.

Opportunities for Engagement and Volunteering: Share those great lessons and curriculum developments in presenting at a convention at both the state and national levels. Have your research or curriculum ideas published in one of the NAEA publications. Demonstrate your leadership skills in an AEAI or NAEA office. Serve on an AEAI committee or county liaison. Apply for an NAEA sponsored grant.

Award Recognition: Every year at the AEAI state convention, awards are presented to exemplary art educators at each teaching level, as well as honoring friends of the arts. AEAI award recipients recognized in most categories need to be AEAI members.

Publications: Receive Contact, the official publication for AEAI and receive NAEA publications of Art Education journal bi-monthly; NAEA News, a bi-monthly newspaper; Translations, a twice-a-year research publication; and NAEA Advisory, four sets of single topic articles that focus on timely issues in art education.

Discounts: AEAI/NAEA membership offers discounts on NAEA books, journals, and merchandise. Membership also offers discounts on insurance programs, including medical, professional liability, and GEICO auto insurance.

Access to members-only features: The NAEA website offers a number of extras available only to members, such as lesson plans, e-portfolios and classroom galleries.
